CITY TOURISM WEBSITE GOES LIVE

DiscoverTombstone.com, our new City tourism website, went live this morning.

You'll want to check it out. Most important feature -- we have a listing -- picture and text -- for EVERY company in Tombstone even remotely related to tourism. And you don't have to be a member of anything to be listed here. This site's for ALL of you -- for anyone with a City business license. As City taxpayers, your listings are FREE. Absolutely no charge.

This is our opening shot, getting ready for the tourist rush soon to come. This excellent website was built for the City by Janice and Keith Davis at Goose Flats Graphics. If you are a business owner or manager, take a look at your listing. Not quite right? Don't blame me, it's Jon Donahue's fault (just kidding), he wrote up the listing text to get this started. But don't complain to him if you want a change (he's hiding out, LOL). Instead, web designer Keith wants you to go to discovertombstone.com/business/ ... where there's a form you can use for text changes. And, there's a 'Tombstone Businesses' link at the bottom of every page, which also goes to the business contact form.

Keith also tells us that the City tourism website will be IMMEDIATELY updated with upcoming Event information, hopefully in just a few weeks as Governor Ducey lifts the stay-at-home recommendations, and Cochise County commerce returns to normal.

Yours for tourism, Dusty

Mayor Dustin L. Escapule, 4/6/2020.
